18 the year commencing on December 10, 2008 the international Year of Human Rights
19 Learning;

20
21 WHEREAS, This is an opportunity to call attention to human rights violations
22 around the world and to continue to promote the importance of educating our citizens
23 about human rights;

24
25 WHEREAS, The District of Columbia Public Schools has partnered with the 26 American Friends Service Committee to create courses that teach our students about 27 human rights issues;

28
29 WHEREAS, On this day, citizens of the nation’s capital, led by individuals and
30 organizations, affirm their commitment to human rights by declaring Washington, DC, a
31 Human Rights City;

32
33 WHEREAS, Washington, DC being a Human Rights City makes it a model for 34 communities around the world to witness practical ways the human rights framework can
35 make every citizen a partner of sustainable change;

36
37 WHEREAS, A Human Rights City is one whose residents and local authorities,
38 through on-going discussions and creative exchanges of ideas, come to understand that 39 human rights, when widely known as a way of life, assist in identifying the issues and
40 informs the actions in our DC communities, for meaningful, positive economic and social
41 change;

42
43 WHEREAS, Developing Human Rights Cities is an attempt to build infrastructure
44 for conflict prevention, human security, sustainable development, and create a place for 45 active civic engagement at the local, national, and global level;

46

1 WHEREAS, Washington, DC will be declared the first Human Rights City in the
2 United States;

3
4 WHEREAS, As a Human Rights City, Washington, DC will be joining other
5 human rights cities around the world in working to provide leadership and advocacy to 6 secure, protect, and promote human rights for all people;

7
8 RESOLVED, BY THE COUNCIL OF THE DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA, that
9 this resolution may be cited as the “Washington, DC Human Rights Day Recognition
10 Resolution of 2008.”
